Read the article about the clown, Joseph Grimaldi, and answer the question.

The Real Joey (The Clown)

Joseph Grimaldi, who lived from 1778 to 1837, is probably the most famous clown in history. He came from a family of dancers and entertainers, and began his career at the age of two when he danced at Sadler's Wells Theatre.

He became more famous over the years. He was so popular that he played at two theatres every night. He had to run from one theatre to the other to be on time.

In 1806 he joined the Covent Garden Theatre. He had his greatest success there with the comedy 'Harlequin and Mother Goose'. In this show, he played a new type of clown that no one had seen before. This new act was later copied by many other clowns.

He performed in public for the last time in 1828, even though he was ill. People said he was the greatest comedian of his time – and even today clowns are called 'Joey' after the Great Joseph Grimaldi.

Joseph Grimaldi was a famous dancer.

Read the article about the singer, Macy Gray, and answer the question.

The New Voice of Soul Music

When Macy Gray was at school, the other children made fun of her strange voice. 'Every time I opened my mouth, the kids laughed at me,' she says.

Things have changed for the 30-year-old American, who today has sold millions of records around the world. Macy says 'I wrote some song lyrics for friends of mine who were musicians. One day, when they wanted to record a song, their singer didn't arrive. I sang for them and weeks later I was asked to sing for a jazz band.' Macy couldn't believe that people liked her voice but then Atlantic Records invited her to join them. She was 24 when she was asked to record an album.

'I still wasn't sure that I was doing the right thing, but I thought that I'd try music just one more time.' Her first album sold three million copies. She also won an award for Best Female Singer.

Macy has become the new voice of soul music but she plans to stop singing after she has made her fourth album. 'Nothing lasts forever,' she says. 'I want to stop when I'm on top, and write books all day.'

Macy started singing when she was at school.

Задание 09

Read the article about the singer, Macy Gray, and answer the question.

The New Voice of Soul Music

When Macy Gray was at school, the other children made fun of her strange voice.

'Every time I opened my mouth, the kids laughed at me,' she says.

Things have changed for the 30-year-old American, who today has sold millions of records around the world. Macy says 'I wrote some song lyrics for friends of mine who were musicians. One day, when they wanted to record a song, their singer didn't arrive. I sang for them and weeks later I was asked to sing for a jazz band.'

Macy couldn't believe that people liked her voice but then Atlantic Records invited her to join them. She was 24 when she was asked to record an album.
